Welcome note from the Dean

Dear Student,

Welcome to Vesalius College, located in Brussels, Belgium, the “Capital of Europe”. Vesalius offers students a truly unique opportunity to study in an international city rich in culture and set squarely in the middle of world events.

Living in Brussels - A Very Cosmopolitan Affair
The liberal nature of Vesalius’ academic programme is reflected in the life of its students. The College encourages students to work hard to reach their academic potential, but also to live a full life away from books and classes. Brussels has a tremendous amount to offer those interested in exploring “The Capital of Europe” and students quickly discover the city to be vibrant and cosmopolitan with a friendly charm. With 30% of Brussels’ population being foreign nationals, the city has something to offer every taste in music, dancing, cuisine, art, associations and much, much, much more.

The University Neighbourhood
Vesalius College is a part of a broader student community (of more than 10,000 students) consisting of four other universities and graduate schools concentrated in a single area that exemplifies the student lifestyle. Easily accessible by bus, tram or metro, the area has everything to meet student needs including affordable housing, two on-campus cafeterias, live music, libraries, banks, shops, markets, restaurants, taverns, as well as sports activities and facilities. This guide is designed to help you prepare for your move to Belgium and find your way around in Brussels and beyond. It contains useful information which is meant to facilitate your introduction into Belgian life.
Use it to your best advantage and enjoy the experience.

Admission to Belgian Territory

If you are not a Belgian citizen, you must get a student visa to live in the country and attend school. The time it takes to attain one may vary from one month to several depending on a variety of factors. Vesalius recommends you apply for a student visa as soon as you are accepted into the programme. To be admitted to Belgium, you must go through certain entrance formalities. You can be admitted to Belgium on the basis of various different statutes. The statute on the basis of which you have to get into the country is a “temporary residence permit for students”. This is the only way to be able to stay in Belgium for the duration of your studies.

Who needs a “temporary residence permit for students”

All foreign students, except citizens of countries of the European Union, need a temporary residence permit to stay in Belgium. Important: A holder of a UK passport without the right of abode in the UK must apply to the Belgian diplomatic or consular in his/her country of residence for a temporary residence permit.

Visa “type D – long stay multiple entries” or temporary residence permit

A temporary residence permit is a type of visa that gives you the provisional right to reside in Belgium, without a specific time limit, but only as long as certain conditions are fulfilled. These conditions are partly related to the purpose of your stay. The Dutch and French names for the type of visa that you need are “Machtiging tot Voorlopig Verblijf” (MVV) and “Autorisation de Séjour Provisoire” (ASP).
Visa “type D – long stay multiple entries” for students

As we stated earlier, what you need is a temporary residence permit for students. It gives you the right to reside in Belgium for the duration of your studies assuming the following:

- That you take the exams and enrol for the following academic year
- That you have sufficient financial means for every period of extension applied for

Where to apply for a temporary residence permit

The Belgian Embassy in your home country, or any other country where you have legal residence.
If there is no Belgian Embassy in your country, you have to go to:
- The embassy of another country that also manages Belgian affairs in your country (for instance the Dutch Embassy in Surinam). Please note that these embassies of third world countries cannot deliver student visas, only tourist visas. In this case, however, it is relatively easy to change your tourist visa into a student visa once you are in Belgium.
- If Belgium does not have an embassy from another country managing its affairs in your country, you will have to go to the nearest Belgian Embassy in a neighbouring country (for instance, if you are from Ghana, you will have to go to the Belgian Embassy in Ivory Coast).

Please note that it is not possible to get a temporary residence permit (or any other visa) once you are in Belgium!

Which documents do you need?

At the embassy you have to present 5 documents:
- A valid passport
- A certificate of “good character”
- A letter of acceptance from an officially recognized educational institute (in this case, an acceptance letter of Vesalius College)
- A certificate of medical check-up by a doctor appointed by the embassy
- Proof of sufficient financial means.

The first three documents do not need much explanation. You have already received the letter of acceptance. A valid passport is a matter for the authorities or embassy in the country where you currently reside, as is the certificate of “good character”. If you have to hand in the original letter of acceptance to the embassy, ask them to provide you with a legalized copy.

Certificate of medical check-up: please ask the embassy which doctor they require you to see, they will probably supply you with a list.

A proof of sufficient financial means can be delivered in various ways but the legal text mentions three examples. Keeping to these examples will give you the best chance of getting a “type D” visa without any problems:

1) A scholarship or a student loan;
2) Someone who declares that s/he will support you financially;
3) You have a solid income from a remunerative activity.

For the first two possibilities, please read “proof of sufficient financial means”.
The third possibility will only be accepted in combination with 1) or 2), because there is always a possibility that you may lose your job and income. Furthermore, to be able to practice a remunerative activity in Belgium, you need a work permit (which has to be applied for by your employer) and, as a student, your work time may not exceed 20 hours per week.

Procedure

When you submit the necessary documents to the embassy, they will send your file to the aliens department in Brussels. This department will investigate your case and finally they will send their answer to the embassy.

If the answer is positive, the embassy will issue your visa and you are all set to go.

If the answer is negative, ask the embassy for the reasons of their refusal. If the embassy does not answer, be persistent. If you have valid documents there is no reason for the embassy to refuse your visa.

Applying for a student visa can take up to several months. If your temporary residence permit arrives too late with a validity period that does not run within the period of enrolment, you will have to postpone your studies until the following semester.

Proof of sufficient financial means

Scholarship or student loans:
A scholarship or student loan is one way to finance your studies and stay in Belgium. As proof of financial support you must deliver a certificate that states that the loan or scholarship covers:
- Health care
- Accommodation
- The cost of your studies
- Repatriation costs

This certificate may originate from:
- An international organisation
- A national government institution

Engagement to take financial responsibility

The sponsor

Anyone, regardless of nationality or location, can take financial responsibility for you. The sponsor can declare to support you for one academic year or for the entire duration of your studies in Belgium; the latter is preferable. Otherwise you will have to annually repeat the procedure of having forms filled out and investigation of the sponsor’s financial means etc.
If an embassy refuses to consider a sponsor who does not have the Belgian nationality or who does not live in Belgium, tell them that you have different information. We have inserted below an excerpt from the Belgian State journal which clearly states that the sponsor can have any nationality and can live in any country. If the embassy does not believe you, please show it to them.

The document “agreement of financial responsibility”

This document proves that you have a financial guarantor and it is a specific form that must be completed by the sponsor.

If the sponsor lives in Belgium, he has to get the form from the municipality. The municipality will forward the form to the Ministry of Interior who will investigate if the person is financially capable of supporting you.

If the sponsor lives abroad, he must get the form from the Belgian Embassy in that country. In this case, the embassy will forward the document to the Ministry of Interior in Belgium.

The Belgian administration recognizes only two languages: Dutch and French. The sponsorship form exists in two versions: in Dutch (“verklaring van tenlasteneming”) and in French (“engagement de prise en charge”). Some embassies provide English versions that are official and therefore can be used. The English translation IS NOT AN OFFICIAL DOCUMENT, the Belgian administration will only accept documents in English if these documents are published by official Belgian administrations, for instance embassies.

Ask the embassy to prepare several legalised copies of the document “agreement of financial responsibility”. One copy will be kept by the embassy; take the others with you when you move to Belgium. You will need them for your registration on the aliens-register at the commune.

Possible additional financial requirements

Some Belgian embassies require proof that the sponsor has a bank account in Belgium and sometimes even that there is a minimum amount of money on the bank account. Other embassies also require that a specific amount be transferred to a special Belgian account (“consignatie-kas”).

Validity period of your temporary residence permit

It is of extreme importance that the validity period of your temporary residence permit falls within the enrollment dates of Vesalius College (please refer to the academic calendar). You will not be able to enroll before or after this period.

Important: If the embassy sees no possibility to get you a student visa that falls within the period of enrollment, they may suggest that you apply for a tourist visa, which is easier for them. Do not agree to this unless the embassy is willing to give you a written statement that mentions that they have advised you to apply for a tourist visa. A written statement is the only way to change your tourist visa into a student visa once you are in Belgium. Otherwise a tourist visa will be of no use to you.

For more information on visa applications, please consult the following website: http://diplomatie.belgium.be/en/services/travel_to_belgium/studying_in_belgium/
Housing

Students are responsible for making their own housing arrangements. However, Vesalius College will help students find suitable off-campus housing if requested. Student rooms are available in a wide price range (€350 to €600 per month on average) and many are conveniently located close to the campus. You will be required to pay two months (sometimes even three months) of rent in advance as a “guarantee” (security deposit) and the first month of rent is due on the day you sign the contract. So if the rent is €350 you will be required to pay 2 X €350 = €700 to the landlord on the day you sign your contract. Sometimes the electricity bill is not included but most of the time it is. Please note you will often need to share the kitchen and bathroom. Housing cannot be arranged before you arrive in Belgium. The earlier you arrive in Brussels, the easier it will be to find accommodation. We suggest that you arrive one week before Orientation if at all possible. We advise you to arrange temporary housing in advance of your arrival (see the suggested list of temporary housing).

Health Insurance

Students are required to obtain international health insurance before arriving in Brussels. Vesalius College does not provide a health insurance plan, however, does recommend that students consider obtaining supplemental Belgian national health insurance.

Some Belgian hospitals and emergency treatment centers will refuse treatment of patients without up-front down-payments of considerable sums of money. Others will allow for initial treatment but will require rapid payment for services rendered and will not direct-bill US or other international health insurance companies. This means that, although the students’ international health insurance will cover reimbursement of the medical expenses, the student will still initially be required to provide considerable sums out-of-pocket, which may prove to be quite a hardship.

With Belgian national health insurance, you will be refunded a percentage of your health care costs. Each time you visit a doctor (or dentist or other recognized practitioner), he/she will issue you an official receipt called an ‘attestation de soins donnés/getuigschrift voor verstrekte hulp’ stating your name, the date of the visit, the code(s) for the treatment provided and the amount paid.

In order to receive a reimbursement, you will have to drop off your medical claims at your local health insurance office. You will be reimbursed on your account within 5-10 days.

The costs of Belgian national health insurance differ depending on the student’s registration status at his/her local town hall. The cost is around €55 per quarter. Students can take an additional insurance for approx. €6 per month. For more information on obtaining Belgian health insurance, please see the following site for Euromut health insurance: http://www.euromut.be/ContentServer/expats/Situation-en/situation.studying-in-belgium/S_article. Our contact at Euromut is Charlotte de Raymond at Charlotte.deraymond@euromut.be

Arrival in Brussels

Money-exchange agents, telephones

When you have passed the customs and leave the passenger-zone, you will find money-exchange agencies at your right-hand side, next to the arrival-exit. Do not exchange too much money there because these agencies are slightly more expensive than banks elsewhere. It is advisable to get at least €30. Ask for coins (€1 and €2) as they come in handy.

At the end of the hall on your left-hand side, you will find a room with public telephones. You can buy telephone cards at the post office next to the room with the telephones. There are other telephones in the arrival hall, at the other end of the hall, passed the cafeteria.

From Zaventem Airport to Vesalius College

Train

The cheapest way to get from Zaventem to Vesalius College is by train and tram. There are two ways of reaching the train station.

If you are near the exit of the passenger zone, just follow the “train” signs which lead you to the escalator. If you have a lot of luggage it is practical to take the elevator downstairs.

In the station you will find a ticket office of the national railway company. A ticket for Brussels costs €8.50 Euros for a standard adult ticket. Go to the platforms. There are two platforms; an arrow will indicate from which of the two platforms the first train will leave. Trains operate regularly to Brussels (4 per hour).

Get off the train at “Brussel Noord”. From the platform go downstairs and to the main exit which is the direction of descending platform numbers. In other words, walk towards platform 1. You will enter a big hall, then walk through the glass doors and you will enter another big hall. Walk until you arrive between two rooms of escalators.
In between the escalators you will see an orange-colored ticket vending machine. This machine also gives instructions in English; choose the option “other languages” and then “English”. Buy a ticket; a one-ride ticket will do. (Cost €2.00).

Take tram 25 (direction Boondaal). Insert the ticket in one of the orange colored punching machines and take it out again. After leaving the “Brussels Noord” station, the tram will go above ground and at a certain point it will go underground again (after the stop at “Meiser”). After four stops, it will go above ground again. Get out at the sixteenth stop called “Etterbeek” station. On your left-hand side you will see the “Etterbeek” train station. Next to the train station (on the left) you will see the BeoBank building. Walk alongside the BeoBank building and turn right on the “Pleinlaan” and you will find Vesalius College (Pleinlaan 5).

By public transport this is the fastest and easiest way to reach Vesalius College.

If you miss “Brussel Noord” station, get out at “Brussel Centraal” station. Follow the signs “Metro” (or a white capital M on a blue background). Buy a one-ride ticket at the ticket window (€2.00). Stamp the ticket in one of the orange coloured ticket stamping machines and then take it out again.

You need to get on a metro with destination “H. Debroux”. When you enter the passenger zone of the metro station, turn left immediately and go downstairs. The platform signs indicate the destination of the next metro-train. Make sure you get on a metro-train with destination “H. Debroux”. Check the destination above the windshield of the vehicle because the information on the platform is not always accurate.

Get out at “Petillon”, this is the seventh stop. Once out of the metro-train, turn left, exit “Vrijwillingerslaan or Avenue des Volontaires”. Outside the metro station, turn right and walk straight on. Cross the “Waversesteenweg or Chaussée de Wavre” and you will arrive on the “Schoofslaan”, walk straight across the campus of the Vrije Universiteit Brussel and you will arrive at the “Pleinlaan or Avenue de la Plaine”, cross the street and you will see Vesalius College (Pleinlaan 5) (close to the BeoBank building).

Taxi

Much easier than the train but also more expensive! The official taxis that have a license for Zaventem airport wait right in front of the airport. They can easily be recognized by a diagonally divided blue and yellow colored shield attached to the front (radiator) of the car. The price should be approximately €30.

Please ask the taxi-driver to drop you off on the corner of the “Pleinlaan or Avenue de la Plaine” (1050 Brussels). Our offices are located on the Pleinlaan 5, 1050 Brussels (or Avenue de la Plaine 5).

IMPORTANT

Before you leave, make sure you have the following documents with you. Photocopy them, and keep the photocopies in a separate place in case you lose the originals. They will either help you renew them or replace the lost documents (your passport mainly):
- Passport: photocopy the page with the picture and the personal information including the date and place of delivery and the page containing your student visa.
- Proof of medical insurance from your home country that covers you while abroad.

Money and Banks

Where is the nearest bank to Vesalius College

You may choose which bank you wish to open an account with.

ING: on the campus of the VUB, open from Monday to Friday from 10:00-17:00 (for more information on opening a bank account, please consult their website: http://www.ing.be/private/index.jsp)

Fortis: Boondaalsesteenweg 466 – 1050 Elsene (http://www.fortis.be/).

Belfius: Boondaalsesteenweg 456 – 1050 Elsene (http://www.belfius.be/)

What is my IBAN code in my home country?

It is a code including the word IBAN followed by a control code, a country code and your bank account number. Ask your local bank at home for the number if you don’t know it. Useful for bank transfers.

Which bank should I use? What is proton? Mr. Cash? Where can I use bank contact?

You can use Bancontact/Mistercash cards at automatic teller machines (ATMs) to withdraw cash, check your account balance and to carry out electronic transfers and other operations at self-service banks. These cards can also be used to pay for goods and services at retail outlets equipped with Bancontact/Mistercash payment terminals. If the Maestro function is added to the card, you will be able to pay electronically with your card, or withdraw cash worldwide.

For small local payments the Proton chip function, available on many cash cards, can be handy. The “electronic purse” allows cardholders to load amounts from €5 to €125 onto their cards from their current accounts. By using your four-digit PIN-code, you can load these amounts electronically from ATMs, public phone booths, bank branches or self-service banking facilities. Proton eliminates the need for small change to pay for minor everyday financial operations such as paying for a loaf of bread from your bakery or a steak from the local butcher. Don’t forget to close your bank account before you leave.

Registration at local town Hall (commune)
Independent Housing Fee (optional, non-refundable)
Host Family Placement Fee (optional, non-refundable)

Tuition

In the Fall semester, tuition for full-time students is 5,900 euro per semester. The tuition must be paid before the end of the first week of class. You will receive an invoice (including payment details) after registration. Please refer to the tuition sheet available on our website www.vesalius.edu for more information.

Town Hall Registration

When you arrive in Brussels, you are required to register with the local Town Hall (called: “maison communale” or “gemeentehuis”) in which you reside. Below you will find the list of the Town Halls of all the communes of Brussels. Check your address to find out which commune you live in (check the ZIP code). You will then have to make an appointment to register within two weeks of your arrival.

IMPORTANT:

If you arrive after the period of enrollment, you will not be allowed to enroll and therefore you will not be able to register at the commune. You will be in Belgium illegally with the risk of being expelled from the country after, for instance, an unexpected identity check. Moreover, after having finally enrolled at the university, if you present yourself at the municipality for your registration with the proof of your enrollment months after your official date of arrival, the staff of the municipality will notice that you have been in the country illegally for several months. There is a risk that you will be expelled from the country if the staff of the municipality informs the aliens’ department.

Required documents for Town Hall registration include:

- Identity card and/or international passport (with student visa stamp)
- The certificate (“proof of registration”) proving that you are officially registered as a student at Vesalius College *
- If applicable, an official document to prove you received a study grant or scholarship
- Your housing contract so you can prove your Belgian address
- Your E128 form or equivalent health insurance document (if you have one)
- 5 identity photos
- Cash (up to € 50)

* Our Information Officer will provide you with a proof of registration, once you are registered and your tuition has been paid.
If you have a diplomatic passport, but your parents are leaving Belgium, you will have to register at the commune following these steps:

You need to go to the “Service des Etrangers” in your commune, and ask them to give you an application for "Changement de statut" (status change). Usually they will know what you are talking about. There you have to explain exactly why you want to change your ID card, meaning you go to school here etc.

Then you have to provide proof that you are enrolled in Vesalius College, you will need to request a proof of registration from Vesalius, and possibly also a proof of payment. Also provide your home address as the police need to come and check that you live there (please make sure you give your home address correctly, because they will check if you live there even before they send off the application to the Ministry). If for some reason your name is not on your door bell, they will cancel the process!

You should also provide a photocopy of your passport and any previous ID to prove that you stayed here legally before. Also go to your doctor and get a proof that you are completely healthy, have no diseases, have had all your required vaccinations, etc.

Normally, these documents should be sufficient. You submit the application with all the supporting documents to your commune, and they will send it to the “Ministère de l’Intérieur” for your case. You should hear from them within a minimum of 6 months. We are sorry to say that it is a very long process!

Please make sure you ask the commune for the list of documents that you need and also be sure you keep a photocopy of all the documents you provide them with. Often the people at the commune may not remember to tell you everything at once, and then make you run around for months trying to gather everything, so be prepared for this and try to remain calm!

Identity card photographs

We suggest you go to a photo shop (FNAC photo shop – Waversesteenweg 738) or to a photo booth (in most railway and metro stations or at Crazy Copy Shop on the Campus). What you can do next to save money is to have a whole sheet (A4) of those photos copied at the Crazy Copy Shop so that you have plenty left to stick on all sorts of documents. It is a good idea to have quite a few original identity photos taken, not only for the Town Hall registration but also to have some in reserve for other purposes such as for public transport, sports card, library card etc.

In case of theft/lost papers

If you are robbed at home, call the police as soon as possible. If your wallet has been stolen (with all your papers), the police will give you a form so that you can go to the Embassy/commune to collect a new ID card, passport etc. If you are robbed on the street, report it at the closest police station (or the one in your neighborhood). It is better to keep a copy of your documents in your wallet and leave the originals at home. To make your life easier, we suggest you make a list with all emergency phone numbers, as listed on page 2, leave it near your phone at home and carry a copy with you, just in case (e.g. ambulance, police, CARD STOP at 070/344.344).

Local administration addresses or the services for foreigners

The offices are open from Monday until Friday. Between brackets you will find the name of the city area (commune/gemeente) in French, if the French name is different from the Dutch one.

Telephone - Fax – Internet

Where can I obtain a Belgian number for my mobile phone?

There are many outlets that sell mobile phone sim cards. You have the choice between three main operators: Proximus, Mobistar and Base. The nearest shop is at the “Cimetière d’Ixelles” – Universiteitslaan (av. de l’Université) (BelCompany). They sell all three operators. Please note that in Belgium mobile phones are referred to as ‘GSM’s.

What is the Belgian country code when someone calls me from abroad?

32 + 2 for Brussels (i.e. +32 2/614.8170)
US callers: 011.32 + 2 for Brussels (i.e 011 32 2/614.8170)

If someone from abroad wants to call me on my Belgian mobile phone number what number should he/she dial?

Code for international calls 32, followed by your mobile phone number without the first 0.
For example if your Belgian Mobile number is 0475/01.02.03, the person calling you from abroad should dial (the code used in the country for international calls) +32 475/01.02.03

What kind of phone shall I buy?

Mobile telephones are widely available in specialized shops and large retail outlets. Such shops are often official agents for one of the three major Belgian operators (Proximus – affiliated to Belgacom, Mobistar and Base) and as such are authorized to open an account for you on the spot. Each of the 3 operators has different formulas for payment, including pre-paid cards, contracts and subscriptions. For more information go to your nearest sales outlet, telephone any one of the 3 operators or see their websites: Proximus 02/205.40.00 – www.proximus.be; Mobistar 0495/95.95.00 – www.mobistar.be; Base 0486/19.19.99 – www.base.be.

Mobistar Center, Boondaelsesteenweg 433, 1050 Elsene (Ixelles)
Belgacom Teleboetiek, Boondaelsesteenweg 423, 1050 Elsene (Ixelles)
Base Shop, 742 - 744, Waversesteenweg, 1040, Etterbeek (Brussels)

Are there any Internet cafés in the neighborhood?

The largest one is downtown: “Easy Everything” at Place De Brouckère 9 – 1000 Brussels. Tel: 02/211.08.20 (metro stop “De Brouckère”). A smaller one called El Café can be found close by on Kroonlaan 463, 1050 Elsene (Ixelles).

Belgium: The Country and its People

Belgium is a small country (30,518 square kilometers) in the north-west of the European continent. In the north-west of Belgium there is a small coastal strip, where it meets the North Sea, which separates the European continent from the United Kingdom.
Belgium's neighbours to the south are France and the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg; in the east, the German Federal Republic, and in the north the Netherlands. The country is flat in the north, and hilly in the south, the highest point is about 700 meters above sea level (Botrange, 694 m.). The climate is moderate, with great variation between seasons. In the summer temperatures are usually somewhere between 20°C (68°F) and 30°C (86°F), in the winter between minus 10°C (14°F) and plus 10°C (50°F). It usually rains a lot, no matter what season.

Belgium has approximately 10 million inhabitants. There are two main language groups, French-speaking Walloons, mainly in the south and east (42% of the population) and Dutch-speaking Flemish mainly in the north and west (57% of the population). There also is a small German-speaking community in the east (approximately 1% of the population).

Not all people living in Belgium are native Belgians: at present some 30% of the population is of foreign origin. Foreigners originate from countries both inside and outside the European Community. The largest groups of foreigners are Italians, Moroccans, Turks, French, Dutch, Germans and British.

Belgium is a constitutional monarchy, founded in 1830. This means that the King’s power is limited by the constitution. The present King of Belgium is Albert II.

The history of the Belgian State has to a large extent been determined by the way in which the two main cultural groups have related to each other. From 1970, the country has evolved from a unitary state into a federal state.

At present the state consists of three “language communities” and three “regions”. The language communities, Flemish, French and German, have authority over cultural and “personal” matters. The regions Flanders, Wallonia and (bilingual) Brussels have authority over “territorial-bound” matters. This all adds up to a total of no less than six governments: the federal government, the Flemish regional executive, the French community executive, and finally the German community executive body.

Brussels

Geographically Brussels lies in the heart of Belgium. The city is bilingual, but predominantly French-speaking. About 80% of the population of greater Brussels is French-speaking. Brussels is, nevertheless, completely surrounded by the Flemish region. The bilingual aspect of Brussels is very obvious: all streets have a Dutch and French name, and even many of the 19 communes that together form greater Brussels, have a Dutch and a French name.

Brussels has many faces. As a city, it is the capital of Belgium, where the King resides and where the federal parliament and government have their seat. The Flemish parliament and government also have their seat in Brussels, so although Brussels is not part of the Flemish region, it is its capital.

Brussels is also called “the Capital of Europe”: the European Community has Brussels as its main administrative center next to Strasbourg in France. Many European administrators known as ‘Eurocrats’ live in Brussels. This European dimension has also turned Brussels into an important international business center: a lot of foreign and multinational companies and businesses have branches and people in Brussels. Add the large groups of Moroccans, Turks, Congolese,... and you will see that Brussels is a place where not only the different cultures of Belgium but also the cultures of the world meet.

Brussels is also a region in itself, with its own parliament and government with territorially orientated authorities. This region comprises the 19 communities that form greater Brussels. Since Brussels is officially a bilingual region, the French and Flemish language communities have authority over cultural and personal matters of their language groups within the Brussels region. As this short introduction illustrates, Brussels is a junction in many ways. Want to know more about it? Come and see for yourself!

Orientation for New Students

Vesalius College provides a mandatory orientation for newly accepted students at the beginning of every semester. In the spring and fall, sessions run from the Wednesday through the Saturday. In the summer the information sessions take place in one day and there is a tour of Brussels given on another day.
During these sessions, students receive information on the academic and social environment of Vesalius College, on course registration, dropping and adding classes and other administrative issues. They will also receive information on Belgian health insurance and banking systems as well as information on Vesalius College services such as the College counselor and the English and math tutorial services. They are also given cultural and safety tips regarding living in Brussels. All students have sessions for the activation of their College computer accounts and are given a tour of the campus. A tour of Brussels is also organized in addition to social events (including a barbecue) organised by the Vesalius Student Government.

Vesalius Student Government

The Vesalius Student Government (VSG) is an elected student body and acts as the main liaison between students and the academic administration of Vesalius College. The VSG appoints representatives to the Academic Council, which is the academic governance of the College, and regularly meets with the Dean on matters which affect the students at the College. The Student Government also holds a very important social role. It organises welcoming activities for new students, sports activities, seasonal parties, drama evenings and other social activities throughout the year. The members act as student ambassadors at events such as orientation, open day and recruitment fairs. If you would like to connect to the VSG or our students, you can check out their facebook page ‘VSG friend’ or send an email to vecovsg@gmail.com. They are very willing to give you information about Vesalius College from a student perspective. Students can also consult the Facebook page for information on buying and selling used books and for information on participating to student clubs.

All Vesalius College students have access to three major libraries in Brussels: The library of the Vrije Universiteit Brussel (the VUB), located across the street from our campus, that of the Université Libre de Brussels (the ULB), located in Ixelles/Elsene and the Royal Library, located downtown. Please refer to the maps at the end of this brochure to locate the ULB and the VUB libraries on their respective campuses. The Université Libre de Bruxelles is located on Avenue Franklin Roosevelt 50, 1050 Brussels. The Royal Library is located on 4 Boulevard de l’Empereur, 1000 Brussels.

Bookshops

The textbooks used for courses at Vesalius College are not for sale at the VUB bookshop. Students can buy their textbooks (except for Dutch and French) from Waterstone’s, the English bookstore on Boulevard Adolphe Max 71-75 in Brussels, close to metro De Brouckère (line 5 and 1) or metro Rogier (line 6 and 2). Computers on Campus

Computer Rooms at Vesalius College
Free wireless internet (Wi-Fi) is available at Vesalius College and on the VUB campus. Students can use the computer lab of Vesalius College or the computer rooms on the VUB campus. The computer lab of Vesalius College is open every working day from 9am to 5pm.

Computer Rooms on VUB Campus

Building E
Three Computer rooms are located on the ground floor in building E (entrance via the ‘Esplanade’, between F- and E-building next to Crazy Copy). The room numbers are E1.01, E1.02 and E1.07. More information on gaining access to the computers can be found on the website of the info-group: http://igwe.vub.ac.be/. The opening hours for the computer rooms in building E are variable. The availability of the rooms can be checked through the above website too. When using these computers to write papers, please make sure you save them as a Microsoft Word-document (.doc) or a Rich Text File (.rtf) because these machines run the not so common Star office.

Building B
The rooms are B002, 3, 4, 5a and b, 6. Rooms 4 and 5a do not have an internet connection. If a student attempts to use a web browser he/she will receive a warning. If persistent in trying to access internet from that location, the computer account of that student will be locked. Opening hours for the computer rooms in building B are: all weekdays: 9 am – 8 pm; holidays: 9am – 5 pm. The occupation of the different rooms can be checked on http://www.vub.ac.be/HW/computerrooms.html

Several computer sessions will be held during Orientation. In these sessions, the computer room supervisor will help you activate your VUB email account.

Why it is important for you to activate your VUB account:

- The College administration needs to be able to reach all students by email. The VUB account provides a standard email address format which makes such contact possible.

- Communication with and from instructors will be easier as the administration will be able to provide instructors with the email accounts of students enrolled in their courses.
The online learning platform ‘Pointcarré’ used by professors requires you to log in using your VUB account. If you do not have access to Pointcarré, you will miss out on important course materials.

Your computer room log-in is linked to your VUB-account, as is your print credit.

Online Academic Resources

A great number of online resources are available to students with a VUB-computer account. By far the easiest way to find these resources is through the website of the VUB-library: http://www.vub.ac.be/BIBLIO/index_en.html

Almost all databases are available from any computer. Access is automatic when using a computer on the VUB-campus. If you prefer to work from another location, you will have to type in your username (v+student ID) and the password for your VUB e-mail after clicking on the database you wish to access through the VUB library site.

Accessing these databases through the link at the VUB-library website is compulsory when working off-campus.

Student Portal

The student portal, where professors and administration can post announcements and where students can check their individual schedules and courses they are registered for, is accessible at http://www.vesalius.edu/studentportal

For further questions or problems, please contact Chris Janssens at chrijans@vub.ac.be.

Sports on Campus

Vesalius students have full access to the athletics facilities of the VUB. The sports facilities include two large multipurpose sports halls (for indoor soccer, basketball, badminton, tennis, etc.), one martial arts hall, three squash courts, a swimming pool and one climbing wall. All facilities are indoors and, thus, are always available regardless of the weather conditions.

Next to its indoor infrastructure, the VUB Sports Department also has outdoor sports fields, including one synthetic soccer field and a brand new athletics track and rugby. This sports center consists of a 1,500 m² fitness and cardio area, a spinning studio, two large changing rooms, a relaxation area, a solarium and a dance/aerobics studio. Health City is a state-of-the-art private sports club located on VUB campus. * Always take your passport and Belgian residence card
* Tell someone where you will be going and when you plan on returning
* Be realistic in your plans
* Above all, do not miss classes!

In Belgium, the best deal for travelling by train is the “GO PASS”, 10 one-way trips within Belgium cost €50 (For people under 26 years of age). Student discounts are available for longer trips outside of Belgium. You will probably be tempted to get an inter rail pass.
Website: www.b-rail.be

Public transportation in Brussels

To travel in Brussels by public transportation, You can either choose MOBIB, an electronic pass or a regular transport ticket (Jump).

If you only travel occasionally by public transport, then choose the easiest way:

a single fare.

If you have no valid ticket the fine you will have to pay is €100 the first time, €200 the second time.

It is very important to validate your card “each time” you get on the bus/tram or metro (in the punch box you will find inside the bus and tram and in every metro station). Please note, you will also be given a fine if you have a ticket but have not validated it in the machine.

The offices where you can buy your monthly/yearly pass are listed below. A one-ride ticket can be bought on the bus/tram and in every metro station (they only accept the correct amount on the bus/tram). Every “punch” is valid for one hour but you need to punch your card “each time” you switch transportation (bus, tram or metro); it will not punch another ride on your card, just makes a note of the “transit”.

Jobs in Brussels

- EU students can work without work permit (max. 20hrs a week). However, for the time being, Bulgarian and Romanian students are still required to obtain a work permit C (which has to be applied for by your employer).
- Non EU-students with a residence permit (ID card from the commune) and a student card are entitled to have a work permit C.

How to apply for permit C

Students living in Brussels:
- Go to the BGDA/ORBEM (Service for Foreign Employees “dienst vreemde werknemers”) at the Anspachlaan (Boulevard Anspach) 65, 1000 Brussels (first floor, office 108, phone 02/505.16.50). It opens at 8:00 and closes at 11:30. We advise you to go early as you need to join the queue to receive a number. They only deal with a certain amount of numbers each day. You need to take along a copy of your ID card and your student card.

Ask for work permit C. You will receive 3 orange papers. One has to be filled in by you. One has to be filled in by the commune where you live and one has to be filled in by Vesalius College. When these 3 documents are ready, you have to give them in personally to the BGDA/ORBEM (same office). Processing usually takes 4 to 6 weeks. Students cannot start a job until they receive the work permit. You are entitled to work 20 hours per week during the academic year and full-time during the holidays.

Students living in Flanders:

- Go to the VDAB office of the commune/city where you live
- Ask for a work permit C
- Papers: see Students living in Brussels (above)
